SOME TARIFF POINTERS

Max Pracht Has a Word For Potters.

WHAT TO EXPECT IN THE FUTURE

How a Protective Duty on One Article Affects Men Employed in the Production of Another—A Letter That Will Interest All Those Who Read.

Max Pracht, the representative of the Tariff League, writes the following to the NEWS REVIEW:

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—The potter who kicked against the times and waited for free trade now kicks again; but this time it is himself he kicks, and for good reason, having had time to find out that cheapness in the products of the other man's labor means cheapness in the products of his own. When he voted for free trade—for his own selfish purposes—he did not stop to think that his neighbor, who is a nail or tin plate maker, a tailor or a baker, being exposed to the free trade virus, would, in a measure of self protection, infect the potter; or, being compelled to sell their wares, the products of their labor, at prices in competition with those ruling in foreign lands, would at once demand for themselves lower prices on pottery. In an industry like that of the potters, where raw material costs so little and the finished article so much, the difference being the labor expended upon it, a reduction in the price so as to meet the views of the buyers under the new Democratic free trade dispensation can be made only by a reduction in the cost of production—that is, the labor expended on it.

The workman who voted for free trade in the other man's goods and lower wages for his neighbor, gets the same medicine administered through the vote of his neighbor who in revenge votes for cheaper crockery, because his labor and his product are cheapened until it threatened to become a general scramble among the workmen as to who should be compelled to sell his labor and products cheapest.

But before this can come to pass the American workman has one more opportunity to express his change of opinion at the ballot box, and that change will be a change back to the conditions that existed in 1892, when there were two jobs hunting one man, instead, as is the case now, two men hunting one job. This, I prophesy, will be the result, but we—that is, the "protectionists"—cannot restore the old condition of affairs at once. We can, by kicking out the Democratic free trade majority in the lower house of Congress, as it is certain we will do on the 6th day of November next, prevent any further assaults upon our workingmen and their homes, and, perhaps, prevent wages from going any lower. But we cannot restore duties to the point where they are protective until we elect in 1896 both a protectionist senate and a protectionist president. This we will do.

Now for a mitigation of our present evils. There is but one possible way, and that is for Americans to buy only American goods, refuse everything with an imported brand or label, and tell every counter jumper who tells you that the imported article is better than the domestic that he lies, and his employer hires him to lie because it will be to his profit for him to lie.

Better, far better, pay even a trifle more for the American article, and know when you have done so that you thereby have helped to pay good wages to another good American and that the price that you paid, which represented all the cost and all the profits, yet remains in this, your own country, and is not sent abroad to enrich the foreigner, while impoverishing yourselves.

What is the concern of one of you is the concern of all. High wages in one line of industry is impossible unless high wages are general in all industries. You have here in Liverpool potteries which turn out ware equal in the finest grade, and better in the common grades, than those of the lion and unicorn. God bless the queen variety. Has it ever occurred to you that when you go to a store to buy a dish, a pitcher, a platter, or a mantel ornament, that in buying a dollar's worth of Liverpool made goods you have the goods, and as good or better than any, and Liverpool has the dollar? While if the storekeeper sells you foreign-made, "imported" ware, the dollar is sent abroad to enrich a foreigner! And the same course of reasoning applies to everything you buy made by the hand of labor.

Give the free trade man a short shift and he soon will hang. When he finds he can no longer bamboozle you with the jugglery of the word "imported," he will soon be breaking his neck trying to sell you American products, and praise them up as much as he now damns them. American goods are good enough for good Americans. Good Americans are patriots, and if every patriotic American will purchase for his own use American goods only, the disastrous effects of the infamous Wilson free trade bill and the perfidious and dishonorable sugar trust Gorman bill will be lessened.

MAX PRACHT,
of Oregon.

ALL HALLOW'EEN.

Tonight Will be Celebrated by Old and Young as Usual.

Tonight will be Halloween night, or as the small boys continue to put it "holler eve," and it will be celebrated by old and young, large and small, in the best possible manner to make it an enjoyable event. Young America will undoubtedly find plenty of opportunity to disturb gates, doors, windows and other articles too numerous to mention. Unless everybody has been victims of the hard times to such an extent that they have not been able to indulge in these luxuries, halloween socials, parties and taffy pullings will be the order of the night and several events are booked.

The Daughters of Rebekah will hold a Halloween social in Odd Fellows' hall, and each member of the order will amuse by telling how he or she earned a dollar for the lodge.

A Halloween social will be held in the Second United Presbyterian church, East End, and refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Crosser will throw open their cosy home to the little folks who will attend a party in honor of their children.

The Phoenix club will entertain its members and their lady friends at the rooms of the organization this evening.

The members of the Union club give a select invitation dance at Turner's hall tonight. The boys have made full preparations for the occasion, and anticipate a very pleasant time. The invitations are very neat and attractive.

A grand masquerade ball will be given in the rink by Professor Roe's orchestra tonight.

COULD NOT AGREE.

The Jury in the McFadden Case Out Seven Hours.

The jury in the case of John McFadden, the saloon keeper who was in Mayor Gilbert's court yesterday because of a charge of violating the liquor laws, failed to agree.

Each side presented three witnesses, and Solicitor Clark and Attorney F. E. Grosshans reviewed the case at length in their arguments. At 4 o'clock the matter was placed in the hands of the jury and they retired. When they made no report at 6 the parties most interested knew that there was a serious disagreement, and when at 8 o'clock they sent out for supper the knowing ones settled down for a long wait. The hours passed slowly by, and the watchers waited until 1 o'clock, when the jury announced that there was no such thing as agreeing. It is said that the majority were for acquittal. They were discharged, and a new trial will take place next week.

The new jury will be drawn from the following names: Harold Williamson, Edward Bennett, George C. Murphy, Adolph Fritz, Peter Kinney, Emerson Bowman, Jethro Manley, William Kinney, Sylvester Kinney, James Welch, T. B. Murphy, Mark Douglas, John I. Hodson, M. M. Huston, Loomis Kinney, R. E. Watson. No date has been set for the new trial.

The city will pay the costs of the trial which failed to convict the accused.

Won the Chain.

James Johnson, of Ravine street, is the proud possessor of a fine gold watch chain and charm, the present of Dr. W. R. Clarke. The doctor offered the chain some months ago as a prize to the most successful metropolitan agent and the contest has been a lively one. The prize was won by Johnson yesterday.

The Last Speech.

R. W. Taylor has continued his campaign with such energy as to cover every town of importance in the district. At Youngstown a great crowd greeted him Saturday night, and last night he spoke to many persons at East Greenville. He closes in Stark county tonight at North Lawrence.

Gone to Virginia.

E. R. Curtis, an engineer connected with the new bridge company, left last night for his home in Luray, Virginia, where he will remain until after election day. The gentleman is deeply interested in the fight in Wilson's district, living but a short distance from the boundary line.

NO LIGHTS TONIGHT

The Electric Plant Almost Destroyed by Fire.

DYNAMOS HAVE BEEN ORDERED

Incandescent Light Promised For Friday Evening and the Street System May Be on Saturday Evening Good Work of the Department.

If you have been using incandescent light in your house, purchase a few candles today, for the bulbs will not give radiance this night.

It was 4:30 o'clock this morning when Engineer Murphy, the only man who spends the night at the electric light plant, discovered that the building was in flames. At that time he was engaged in fixing some part of the engine, and was lying on the floor. Suddenly his ear caught the sound of crackling flames, and knowing that it was impossible for the sound to come from the furnace, he glanced toward the roof. There he saw that the stacks were red with heat, and the shingles around added to the scene by blazing as best they could. A moment more and that part of the roof burst into flames, prompting the engineer that he must do something quickly. He ran to the patrol box and turned in the alarm which soon roused Chief Adam from his slumbers, and brought him to the scene. Knowing that the flames were making great headway he ran to the fire box, and sending in the alarm brought the company from central station in a hurry. From a small knot of people who had been attracted by the flames the chief selected a man to stand by the box and see that it sounded forth the alarm until the volunteer as well as the regular firemen were on the ground.

When the company dashed out of the station their lights were burning brightly, but as they came dashing down the street the dynamos stopped, one by one, and they could see lights on the different circuits going out with a suddenness which showed the fire was no small affair. The regulars, as well as the volunteers, got there in splendid time, and hose was soon pouring water into the flames. The whole roof was in flames, and sparks were being carried off in clouds. The efforts of the firemen were rewarded from the inside by the stream which burst forth in every direction, the interior of the station being so hot that water was soon changed to steam. Almost before the firemen knew the good work they had done the fire was out, and the value of the plant had been reduced $10,000. Inspection showed that the roof was destroyed, the switchboard was gone, and the machinery had suffered more damage than could be repaired in a day. The engine was injured, and the dynamos were unserviceable. In short, the building was gutted, and the city would have to exist in darkness for a time, at least.

Attorney P. M. Smith was notified and came from Wellsville without delay. He glanced at the ruins of the plant in which he is so deeply interested, and then began to arrange for repairs. A force of men were put at work clearing away the ruins, while machinists and electricians began to examine the machinery. It was found that of the eight dynamos not one had escaped damage, and some time would be consumed in repairs. Then telegrams were sent to Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Chicago for new machines which are expected here in a few days. They will be put up at once, and if there is no accident the incandescent service will be continued Friday evening, and the streets will be lighted Saturday night. Among the damaged machinery is a dynamo which was at the World's Fair, and was recently added to the plant at a cost of $2,000. Mr. Smith stated that the loss would not go beyond $10,000, half covered by insurance. The company is made up of Mr. Smith, Superintendent McKehan and about twenty other persons in the county. The company have been getting along very well the past few months, a number of new stockholders having been taken into the concern, and they will not permit the misfortune of this morning to inconvenience the public one minute longer than is absolutely necessary.

Workmen are busy at the ruins today, and a temporary roof will be put on at once. An addition to hold the new machinery will be built.

Later in the day Mr. Smith received word that a dynamo had been shipped from Barborton, O., for the incandescent service. An arc machine has also started from Cincinnati to help dispel the darkness here. The boilers and engine were not injured. Mr.

Smith went to Pittsburgh this afternoon on business regarding the securing of new machinery.

The plant will immediately be extended to the alley and largely increased in capacity. A number of consumers have been interested in the company and will take stock to make the extensions. About one-fourth of the stock is now owned in East Liverpool, and this will place the control here, which is as it should be. This is a good plant and the enterprise shown should be encouraged, and sympathy and patience extended to the company in their misfortune, and this will encourage capital to locate in the city and help push it to the front.

LIEUTENANT SUPPLIES STATEMENT

The Officer Has a Few Words on Those Missing Bullets.

Lieutenant Walter Supplee, of E Company, called at the NEWS REVIEW office last evening and made this statement:

"There never were 750 rounds of ammunition missing from the armory although no one can deny that some of it was taken. It was not taken by persons outside the company, but by members, who carried it away without my knowledge. The greater part of what was gone has been returned, and more will be brought back tomorrow. I did not make the statement to a reporter that the author of such a story should be thrown from a third story window."

The NEWS REVIEW gladly makes the statement, as it does not intentionally injure anyone.

Burglars at Work.

A burglar visited the home of B. R. Little, Sixth street, early this morning, but was frightened away before he secured anything of value. All that could be missed this morning was a loaf of bread. The thief gained an entrance through a window and then opened a kitchen door. He crept upstairs, and was proceeding in a crouching position across the floor in the servant's room to turn off the gas, which was burning brightly. He happened to grab the foot of the bed to steady himself and also grabbed the foot of a young lady who was peacefully sleeping thereon. She sat up with a scream and the burglar ran as for his life.

The Game Laws.

Briefly the game laws of the state can be put as follows:

Squirrel, July 1 to December 15; woodcock, July 15 to November 1; pheasant, September 1 to December 15; wild duck, September 1 to April 10; wild turkey, October 1 to December 15; quail, November 10 to December 15. No persons shall catch, trap or snare at any time any quail or pheasant. No person shall shoot any wild duck on Sunday, Monday or Tuesday. Quail must not be killed for market or taken out of the state. Dealers are cautioned not to have them on sale.

To Start Monday.

According to an Ironville correspondent the Wallace-Banfield company have caused notices to be posted about the tin plant announcing that as tin has declined one cent per pound caused by a reduction of $20 per ton in the tariff, it will be impossible for them to operate the mill at the old wages. All employees are invited to call upon the manager, who will notify them of what change, if any, has been made in their wages, and they can accept or decline as they see fit.

Bound to Court.

Sidney Burrows, a mere lad, was bound over to court this morning by Squire Rose after he had been charged by Freeman French with stealing a cart. The defence put forward by the boy was that French owed him some money, and he took the cart to even matters. The Squire placed his bond at $200, and he will likely be taken to New Lisbon by Constable Albright tomorrow.

A Populist Paper.

G. J. Rickard, who was the editor of the Salineville Sun, has carried his threat into execution and given the coal town a Populist paper. Among other parts of the Coxey doctrine, it advertises that it has McKinley pills on exhibition. East Liverpool people have not forgotten the disgust created by Coxey when he used the same illustration. As a journalistic effort the paper is a curiosity.

Will Meet Friday.

There will be no meeting of the Republican central committee tonight, the meeting having been postponed until Friday evening. As yet the officers do not know whether there will be another meeting here before the campaign is over, but the chances are against it because the great orators are busily engaged elsewhere.

ROSE CASE IN COURT

The Petition Filed in Lisbon Today.

PHILIP MORLEY IS DEFENDANT

The Plaintiff Asks Damages For $10,000 Claiming That the Affections of His Wife Have Been Alienated Mrs. Golden Wants a Divorce From Her Husband.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

NEW LISBON, Oct. 31—Charles H. Rose, who was indicted by the last grand jury for shooting, filed a suit in court this morning in which prominent East Liverpool parties are principals.

The petition recites that he wants $10,000 from Philip Morley for the breaking up of his home, loss of love, care, society and companionship of his wife through the alienation of her affections. He says that in 1891 he was married to Ada O. Henderson, and until last June they lived happy and contented. Then, he charges, Philip Morley began to seek her companionship, visiting her in his absence. By careful management, attentions, advances, and allurements practiced by him, her love and affections had been alienated and centered on Morley. Continuing the petition says that last June, at Morley's suggestion, Ada left husband, home and child for Black Hawk, Pa., where she lived with Morley. Criminal intimacy is also charged, a number of cases being specified.

This, the plaintiff claims, has caused him great distress of body and mind, and has brought him great shame and dishonor. The attorneys who will look after the case for Rose are J. H. Brookes and P. M. Smith.

Jane R. Golden, who is a resident of East Liverpool, filed a petition for divorce today through her attorney, A. R. Mackall. She claims that her husband, John Golden, has abandoned and neglected her. In 1893 she was given $500 alimony, and to that she wants the court to add a divorce, together with her maiden name. The couple were married in Allegheny.

Robbed Dawson's Store.

The general store of Dawson & Wallace at Smith's Ferry was entered by thieves last night and a quantity of goods taken. There is no clue to the scoundrels, and the merchants have no idea who is responsible for their loss. It will be remembered that the same store was entered during the summer, and the plunder taken down the river on a boat.

Fear They Will Steal.

Several citizens have complained to day of the danger which threatens the city tonight, that of it being at the mercy of thieves. The darkness during the absence of electric lights they think will aid those who ply their nefarious trade and they believe that extra police should be put on.

The Population Increases.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Vogt, 302 Sixth street—a daughter.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis, Trentvale street—a son.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Penne—a daughter.

ABRIGHT At The Grand.

The persons who fear there will be any inconvenience at the Grand this evening because of the destruction of the electric light system will be agreeably surprised to know that gas has been placed to answer every purpose.

Of Ohio.

FOREIGN manufacturers laugh when they think of their American profits.

The last days of the campaign show
the weakness of Democracy in a startling manner.

DAVID HILL is campaigning alone.
The great leaders of his party fear
the effect of what defeat will bring and are keeping their noses well out of the miserable muddle.

SHOULD Willie Wilson be elected in the Second district of West Virginia
he will be of little prominence in the next congress. Republicans will have a word to say about the disposition of Willie.

THE speech made by Rev. Jesse Taylor at the opera house added
hundreds of votes to the Republican party in this city. It would be an excellent idea for the central committee to engage Reverend Taylor to make more speeches of a like character.

IN THE COUNTY.

Advices from the principal towns of the county point to a splendid Republican victory next week in spite of the wild claims of Coxe's men and the unfounded reports of Democracy.
A general review shows that Democrats have deserted their party for the glowing promises of the commonwealer, and in some places the Republicans have lost a few votes to them. But on the other hand there are Democrats who will support the Republican ticket, having had enough of the deception so long practiced upon them. As long as they were not injured by their own principles they were content to fight the battles of their party, but when victory came to them, and the cost was felt in 50 cent wheat and 15 cent wool, they looked for the cause. It will scarcely be a consideration in the battle, although his managers are straining every nerve to keep their men in line with the hope that Coxe will draw enough votes from the Republican party to let them slip in, a winner by a nose.
Vain hope, boys.

THE "BOODLE."

When Democracy is cornered and its leaders know not where to turn for campaign thunder, they have a playful habit of accusing their Republican opponent of using money. They care not if he be as poor as Job's turkey and his financial standing is no better than that of a vagrant, they rush frantically forward in the last days of a campaign with the same old incoherent cry "boodle." "The Republicans are buying votes," yet where is there an instance of where votes were purchased for a Republican candidate Dare the Democrats, who charge that money is being freely used to buy votes for the Republican ticket in this place, take that charge to the proper authorities? Is there one who has courage and conviction sufficient to have the matter given to the law? If there is any man in East Liverpool who knows of another receiving money for his vote, no matter what is his political opinion, he should make known the names of the guilty ones and demand that the law step in. If he fails in this he not only fails to do his duty as a good citizen, but proves that he fears those whom he accuses.

CAZAR NEAR HIS END.

Spits Blood and Has Other Bad Symptoms.

HIS LEFT LUNG IS ATTACKED.

The Condition of His Majesty One of Great Danger—The Patient Seized With Fits of Shivering—Respiration Difficult.
Becoming Very Weak.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 31.—A bulletin from Livadia says that the spitting of blood by the czar continues. The patient is sometimes seized with fits of shivering.
His temperature is 100 degrees Fahrheit, and his pulse 90. The pulsations are weak. Respiration is difficult. His majesty can take little nourishment and is becoming very weak. The edema has considerably increased.

Symptoms of congestion of the left lobe of the lungs have manifested themselves. His majesty's condition is one of danger. Although he is not actually dying the end is near.

GERMANY'S POOR EXCUSE.

Officials Doubt Her Explanation For Prohibiting Our Meat and Cattle.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The announcement that the embargo placed upon American cattle by the senate of Hamburg, had been extended to the length of an exclusion of American cattle and dressed meat from every port of Germany was received with surprise by department officials. That the Texas fever was merely a ground which Germany could adopt for enforcing retaliatory measures against the United States because of the supposed discrimination against German interests in the sugar schedule of the tariff bill, was the prevalent impression.

The German ambassador, however,
assured the secretary of state that the measure of exclusion was inspired solely by sanitary reasons, and had no political motives behind it. Government officials are obliged to take this view of the case,
since any other view might seem a reflection upon the ambassador. Secretary Morton assured Secretary Gresham that the exportation of Texas fever into Germany by American cattle was altogether improbable if not impossible, according to the opinions of the experts of his department.

JEWISH EMIGRATION.

Baron Hirsch Trying to Turn It From the United States.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Superintendent Stump of the immigration bureau has received a letter from Baron Hirsch of the Jewish Colonization association in which in speaking of Jewish emigration
into the United States he says:

"Far from favoring this emigration I have as you may be aware, for the past few years endeavored to turn it to Argentine Republic where the Jewish Colonization association has already established many colonies and it is still establishing others."

"The association does not only do nothing to favor Jewish emigration to the United States but, as far as I am aware, there are no other societies desiring of forcing or inducing them to go to your country or helping them directly or indirectly to that end."

Salisbury Criticizes Rosebery's Speech.

EDINBURGH, Oct. 31.—At a conference of Scottish conservative associations
held here, ex-Prime Minister Salisbury made a speech in which he scathingly criticized the recent speech at Bradford of Prime Minister Rosebery. He described the agitation against the house of lords as a herring drawn across the path of home rule. He did not believe, he declared, that Lord Rosebery was in earnest in his proposed vague reasons regarding the house of lords. The abolition of the house of lords would be mean great danger to the country.

Baltimore's New Music Hall.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 31.—Lovers of music and music students, as well as the general public, have been looking forward with much pleasure to the opening of the new music hall, which takes place
this evening. A grand operatic concert will be given by the Boston Symphony orchestra. This will be one of the series. In her first appearance in Baltimore, Madame Nordica, Madame Schalch, Monsieur Mangiere and Monsieur Poe Planchon will also be heard
during the series.

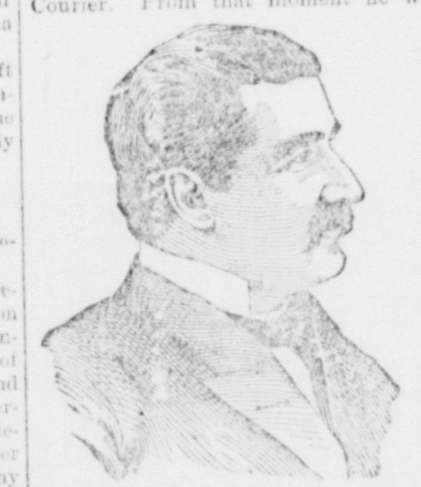

A Cabinet Crisis In Spain.
MADRID, Oct. 31.—As a result of the cabinet council the ministers have tendered their resignations. Minister Sagasta has gone to inform the queen regent of the action of the cabinet. It is believed that the crisis will be found to be difficult of solution. Though the causes that have led to the resignation of the Spanish ministry cannot at pres-

THE DEAD EX-PREMIER.

Career of Honore Mercier Formerly a Figure In Canadian Politics.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Honore Mercier,
the dead ex-premier, was born at St.
Athens, Oct. 15, 1849. He was educated at the Jesuit College of St. Mary's at Montreal and was called to the bar of Quebec in 1867. From 1862 to '64 he was editor of Le Courrier De St.
Hyacinthe, a strong Conservative sheet.
In 1864, when confederation was first discussed, he condemned the project and left the editorial chair of The Courier. From that moment he was ranked with the Liberal party, and as such was elected to the Dominion house of commons for Renville in 1872. In 1874 he resigned his seat in the commons. Four years later he contested St. Hyacinthe as a Liberal candidate for the Quebec legislature. He was elected and subsequently called to the ministry as solicitor general in the Joly administration.

The Joly government fell soon after,
whereupon Mr. Mercier succeeded Mr.
Joly as the leader of the local Liberal party. In 1886 there was a revision of feeling among the French-Canadians due to the northwest troubles, which had resulted in the execution of Louis Riel, and on this cry Mercier succeeded in carrying the province in the elections of 1887, upon which he was commissioned to form a ministry. He remained in office holding the portfolio of attorney general until December, 1891, when he was dismissed by the lieutenant governor of the province, as a result of an investigation by a royal commission on what became known as the Bute des Chateaux scandal. In the ensuing elections his party was annihilated, and although he himself was returned for the county of Bonaventure, since that moment he ceased to be a factor in Canadian politics.

BOLD DAYLIGHT DEED.

A $6,000 Robbery in the Business Center of Chicago.

A JEWELER LOCKED IN A VAULT.

Watches, Jewelry and Money Scooped into a Gunnybag—Carried Off by Two Daring Thieves—The Jeweler Released in a Nearly Exhausted Condition.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—A daring robbery has been committed in the heart of the business center of this city in daylight. The amount of plunder secured is not exactly known but given as $6,000 in watches and other jewelry. C. W. Brethauer, the senior member of the firm of Brethauer & Co., wholesale jewelers at No. 71 Washington street, left his office leaving his son in charge. This office of the firm is in Room 1 on the first floor of the building. It is located the southwest corner and in plain view occupants of the office buildings and about.

During Brethauer says he was bending over a showcase full of watches in the rear of the room, when two men entered the door. One of them carried a revolver in his hand and the other one was armed with a piece of lead pipe about two feet long. The jeweler was ordered to throw up his hands, which he was not slow in doing. The two men then ordered him into the vault, the door of which stood open. Brethauer demurred and one of the men, he says, caught him by the throat, threw him into the vault and pushed the door shut. The thieves then proceeded to ransack the showcases and scooped the watches into a gunny-bag.

THREE BURGLARS KILLED.

They Are Victims of a Wreck Near Williamsport, Pa.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 31.—As the result of a wreck on the Beech Creek railroad three persons were instantly killed and one was fatally injured. The wreck occurred at a point between Peale and Viaduct and was caused by a brake beam dropping. Seventeen cars piled in a mass. The trainmen at once set to work to release a man who had been stealing a ride, who was wedged beneath the debris. Before they had proceeded far it was discovered that there were others in the wreck, and before it was all removed three bodies had been taken out.

The names of the three victims could not be ascertained, but it is believed that they are burglars as they had two complete kits of burglar tools, each man also carried a revolver. On the clothes of one of the men was found the name and "C. Carr." This was all that was found which in any way could lead to their identity. One man was decapitated and another had a leg severed. The bodies were taken to Viaduct.

S. C. Wallace, of East Brady, who as mentioned yesterday, was injured while hunting near Park, is slightly improved today, although he is yet in a serious condition.

The rain washed some dirt from the hill streets last night, but a sweeper commanded by Commissioner Welch would have made them look as well as if they were new.

W. S. Newton, of Allegheny, called on friends in the city today. The gentleman is an engineer, and has just returned from Colorado, where he was engaged at a gold mine.

An individual who had imbibed too much of that which drives men's senses through the top of their hats was taken home from a saloon in the central part of town last night by his wife.

An observer said today that he never knew the time when there was less money wagered on an election than during this year. He had only seen a few bets made and they were on the success of Mr. Wilson.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Elizabeth Saltzman will be held at the late residence on Market street this evening at 6 o'clock. Tomorrow morning the body will be taken to Somerset for interment.

Some young men in an uptown store yesterday undertook to usher into eternity by the electric route a couple of rats. The scheme failed and the theory of electrocution has lost two supporters now. At last accounts the rats were anxious for another shock.

J. R. Warner is decidedly in luck. He is one of the few who will be blessed with the use of incandescent lights tonight, having received permission to be hitched on the illuminating power possessed by our enterprising young townsman, Howard Kerr.

Mrs. Charles Lowery, of Washington and Third streets, who has been an invalid for years, has almost recovered under treatment by a local physician. She was seized yesterday with spasms, but the illness was of short duration and did not assume a serious nature.

The bird season begins in West Virginia tomorrow, and sportsmen who have the permit of farmers to hunt on their land will have a day's hunt. The association of farmers observe the rules closely, and promise prosecution if their warnings are disregarded.

A party of young people from this city attended a party at the home of Miss Ella Wycoff in Grant district last evening, and aided the young lady in celebrating her twenty-first anniversary. There were about 50 persons in attendance, all of whom enjoyed the dancing.

The rain last night and a few drops of water at the headwaters of the Allegheny caused the river to rise today. It was coming up a little yesterday, and has now reached a stage where small boats can run. These are engaged in removing barges stranded during the low water.

Kinsey Talbert is ill at his home on Peake's point with throat trouble, and the attending physician thinks it will develop into a case of diphtheria. If so, it will be the only case in the city, as the quarantine was removed from the other case on Walnut street a few days ago by Health Officer King.

Democracy is not popular with the people of Wellsville, if the attendance at the meeting last night can be taken as a criterion. The crowd numbered not more than 150, and some of these were from East Liverpool. Attorney Maline, one of the Mahoning leaders of the Brice faction, made a speech, which members of his party would count as good.

Samuel Thomas, who resides near the Grant street school house, was a victim of the usual mistake in medicine bottles the other night. He has been suffering with lung trouble and took two kinds of medicines. One he inhaled and the other he took internally. He got the two mixed and swallowed what he should have inhaled. It contained creosote in almost fatal quantities, but the prompt action of a physician, who was called, saved him.

A man with an unpronounceable name has been in town several days staying at Ted Willis's place on West Market street. Today when he was standing in the Diamond Willis's crowd caught him by the arm and marched him before Mayor Gilbert under the charge that he had stolen a coat and vest from Willis's store this morning. In proof of the assertion the accuser claimed the man was wearing the clothes at that minute. He was locked up after being relieved of a bottle of whiskey and some money.

DANGLER RADIATOR.

NO. 302.

Size 11x24x34.

This radiator, new in principle and exclusively our own, has the burner at the bottom of the center tube, opposite the small door in front, making a sure and convenient means of lighting. The direct heat passes up the center tube and down the outside tubes to the base, discharging through the ornamental grating in front of the base. This grating can be easily removed for dusting. The direct heat, being held in the tubes in its passage to the base, makes the radiated air very hot, and with the direct heat discharged near the floor, makes this principle of heating economical, convenient and perfect.

and all other men who have to look neat while at work, should know about "CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS. They look exactly like linen, wear well and being waterproof do not wilt down with heat and moisture. They do not soil easily and can be cleaned in a moment by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. Do not confuse these in your mind with composition goods. Every piece of the genuine is stamped like this:

Ask for these and refuse anything else if you wish satisfaction. Remember that goods so marked are the only waterproof goods made by coating a linen collar with waterproof "Celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. If your dealer should not have the "Celluloid" send amount direct to us and we will mail you sample post-paid. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs, 50c. pair. State size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

The pretty heroine in "Down in Dixie" makes the play intensely interesting while the band of jolly darkeys produce merriment in advance. A northern swindler and a southern overseer make all the wickedness necessary to excite interest, while the play ends with everyone satisfied and all old scores settled to the satisfaction of the audience and the company.

FOUR OF OUR GREAT SELLERS.

Look at this one. Notice the style, length and general make up. There is no doubt but that we are showing the most stylish cut garments in the city. But this is not all. We are showing a great many more styles than our competitors.

Notice the welted seams on the back of this cut. It is an improvement over the old styled seams, making a neat finish and very durable. We have a full line of fur capes from $5 up to $50. They are very popular and great sellers this season. Also muffs, chokers and children's fur sets.

This cut represents a style of a tight fitting 40 inch garment that has been extra good with us this season. We are having a big trade on children's garments. Navy blue and Havana brown are the popular shades. We have a full line of these goods. Also infant cloak eiderdown trimmed with angora, cloth trimmed with braid; in fact, all the new styles for misses and children can be found in our cloak room.

This cut, in particular, we want you to notice. We claim for this garment a superior style finish, and fit also; that you can not find the same style in any other cloak stock in the city. These are only four of the styles that we are showing. We have others equally as popular as these. We can assure you that if you give our cloak stock a thorough going over you will be convinced that we have the most complete line in the city.
